of the Federal agents investigating the coal situation in the Eastern District of Virginia was reported yesterday at the United States District Attorney's office, where, it was stated, that a forinight or more will clapse before any appreciable results will have been obtained.

It is not expected that this work will lower coal prices. It is not expected that the work will lower coal prices. In the vicinity of Hampton Roads, where the worst evidences of profiteering have been uncovered. It is believed that the coal brokers saw that shipowners suffer heavy demurrage losses if their ships were held in port through lack of fuel, and have therefore been exacting any price they pleased.

As a consequence of this, coal for domestic use in hiland cities has been scarce, tobs upon tons having gone in Tidewater.

HISTORY COMMISSION WILL MEET WITH 80TH DIVISION

Special Joint Session of Two organizations will Be Held Next Saturday.

A special meeting of the Virginia War History Commission will be held in the Capitol Building in Richmond next Saturday night in connection with the reunion of the Biue Ridge Veterans, in an effort to complete its history of the command, it was announced yesterday.

War history commissions from War history commissions from War history commissions from War history commissions from West Virginia and Pennsylvania have been invited also to attend this meeting, together with the historical committee of the Eightieth Division, and any member of the division interested in this work.

An information booth at headquarters of the committee in the Grays Armory, where Pullman reservations may be made and all desired information as to the arrival and departure of trains may be obtained, has been arranged with the reunion committee in Richmond and the railroad companies. This booth is expected to prove a great convenience to those attending the reunion, and will greatly simplify the making of arrange.

HIGH WATER PREVENTS

Lake Frances Is Wirelessed to Tie Up at City Point Pending Re-

Cession of Waters.

Wireless instructions were given the Lake Frances yesterday afternoon to remain at City Point on her arrival there this morning at 9 o'clock until such time as the James River recedes to a level which will not make it dangerous for so large a steamer as the Frances to dock at the Old Dominion pier here. She would have reached the city about noon on her second trip from New York had not the recent rains again caused the river to rise. The height is twenty-two feet at Columbia and approximately thirteen feet at the wharves here. A rise of another foot would flood the freight shed on the lower stage, and a large gang worked far into the night removing the 250 tons now on hand to the upper sheds. No new freight was received yesterday.
